The Fund may enter into hedging transactions where it has acquired investments not denominated in its base currency. Currency risk may be hedged, at the discretion of the Manager. The Total Expense Ratio (TER) is disclosed as the percentage of the average NET Asset Value of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio and underlying portfolios. The TER is calculated quarterly. A higher TER ratio does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an induction of future TER's. Individual investor returns may differ as a result of fees, actual date(s) of investment, date (s) of reinvestment or income and withholding tax. Annualized returns, also known as Compound Annualized Growth Rates, are calculated from cumulative returns; they provide an indication of the average annual return achieved from an investment that was held for the stated time period. Actual annual figures are available from the Manager on request. Performance figures quoted are from Morningstar, for a lump sum investment, using NAV-NAV prices with income distributions reinvested. The performance is calculated for the portfolio and individual performance may differ. Fund Manager Commentary

Local Markets (South Africa)

August was an outstanding month for South African assets. The JSE was the best-performing major equity market globally, with the FTSE/JSE Capped All Share gaining 4.6% for the month, dragging the year-to-date return back into positive territory. Precious metals miners did the heavy lifting, with gold miners up 38% for the month as the gold price rallied 9.7%, its strongest move since February. The rand strengthened 2.6% against the US dollar, supported by a weaker greenback and strength in South Africa's commodity exports. On inflation, July's data brought welcome relief, with headline inflation slowing to 4.3% year-on-year from 5.0% in June, coming in softer than the 4.5% economists had expected. Lower fuel costs, easing food prices and moderating municipal tariff increases all contributed. The picture locally is genuinely encouraging: equities are performing, the rand is firming, inflation is cooling, and the country continues to benefit from its improved credit standing. The main risk to watch remains external, with renewed Middle East tensions and higher oil prices potentially reversing some of the recent progress

Global Drivers

August was a strong month for global markets, with the S&P 500 rising 2.7% and the Nasdaq gaining 4.0% to record their best August performance since 2021. Technology stocks resumed their leadership, and Nvidia's earnings late in the month delivered another positive surprise, jumping 8.7% on the results and reinforcing the AI investment case. Beneath the surface, however, cracks began to show. Renewed US-Iran tensions late in the month pushed oil prices sharply higher, with Brent crude back above $90 per barrel, and a bond market sell-off on 19 August saw yields spike as concerns mounted over US government debt levels, which have now surpassed $40 trillion. New Fed Chair Kevin Warsh delivered a notably hawkish speech at the Jackson Hole symposium late in the month, signalling that rate cuts are still not on the table and raising the possibility of further tightening if inflation does not cooperate. It was a month of records, but also a reminder that volatility is likely to remain a feature of markets in the months ahead, particularly around energy prices, government finances and central bank rhetoric.
